WALTHER LEAGUE AT ZONE RALLY

Societies of Seven Suburban Towns
To Participate at St. Peter's Church Arlington Heights
Sunday

The first rally of the newly organized Northwest Suburban Zone of the Walther League will be held at St. Peter's Lutheran church, Sunday afternoon and evening. The zone comprises the following societies: Crystal Lake, Palatine, Arlington Heights, Des Plaines, Park Ridge, Norwood Park, Jefferson Park.

The Walther League is an international organization of Lutheran young people's societies in the United States and Canada, with affiliated organizations in Germany, South America and Australia. Its membership totals 50,000 young men and young women enrolled in 1,250 senior and 390 junior societies. The motto of the Walther League is "For Church and Home" and its chief aim is to assist in keeping the young people with the church. General offices are located at Chicago, Illinois, where a staff of fifteen people are employed to transact the business of the international organization.

One of the outstanding endeavors of the Walther League is its travel welfare, or hospice work. Approximately 1200 travelers welfare secretaries serve voluntarily in 1400 communities and help traveling Lutherans to find lodging and employment and to become acquainted with the members of the local church. A national chain of homes for Lutheran young men and young women, which shelter about 4,000 guests annually and represent a property value of half a million dollars, is maintained.

For the educational development of its members, the Walther League issues a Bible study periodical, publishes a series of topic discussion outlines, conducts a school of correspondence, maintains a lecture bureau and promotes annually a senior and a junior reading course. Summer and winter conferences in all parts of the league are devoted to the development of education aims. Permanent conference camps have been established at Arcadia, Mich., and Lutheland, Pa.

Mission support and charitable endeavors are outstanding features of the Walther League's program of service. Annual contributions represent an investment of a quarter million dollars which has been fostered by the young people. Its annual charity budget, in excess of fifty thousand dollars, is raised by the sale of a special Christmas Seal.

The rally on Sunday is the first ever held under the auspices of the Arlington Heights society and its members are giving evidence of a fine spirit of enthusiasm and Christian service. The program committee, in particular consisting of Hilda Goffert, chairman, Helen Giescke, Edna Taeger, Arthur Niebuhr, Edwin Guenther and Alfred Meyer, has labored carefully and well to make the affair a success, both from the standpoint of attendance and enjoyment. Five hundred invitations have been mailed to the members of the various societies comprising the zone and the local young people look forward to a large attendance.

For the inspirational service, the committee has been fortunate enough to induce Rev. A. R. Kretzmann, assistant pastor of the St. Luke's, the largest Lutheran congregation in Chicago, to deliver the keynote address of the day. After the business meeting, a good fellowship banquet will be celebrated and in the evening an unusual entertainment feature will be presented, an elaborate and laugh-getting musical comedy entitled "In Hinky Doodle Town," by a cast of forty young people from Des Plaines. No admission will be charged for the comedy, but the principle will apply: First come, first served. Mr. Landeck's orchestra will furnish the musical entertainment.

Invitation Extended To Neighboring Churches To Attend League Rally

Arlington Heights Walther League has extended an invitation to the young people's societies of the Lutheran church of adjoining communities to attend the rally of the league to be held in St. Peter's church Sunday. Every Lutheran church is invited. In the evening, an unusual entertainment feature will be presented, an elaborate and laugh-getting musical comedy entitled, "In Hinky Doodle Town." The cast is forty young people from Des Plaines.

Around Arlington

The 18 months old child of Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Medo tried to eat a peanut whole the other day. It became lodged in the throat and the alarmed parents rushed him to a doctor's office, where the swallowing process was completed.

Billy Jones, one of the jockies at the race track sustained a bad gash in the head when his horse fell. The horse went over one, but the rider three times.

Florence Lorenzen and Raymond Meyer, clerking in the W. F. Sieburg Drug Store. The proprietor finds that the new location means increased business.

The $25,000 bond issue for the new fire equipment, was sold Monday night to Seipp Prindle & Co. the purchaser paying a premium of about two and a half per cent and costs.

Restaurants are springing up fast around Arlington Heights. One of the latest is in the old building west of the Masny market, which has been remodeled into an attractive eating place by Joe Kovats, and specializes in Hungarian cooking.

Cushman William J. Hausam is in Waukesha for his health. His friends have noticed lately that he is not as spry as usual and will admit that he has lost some of his usual pep, but with the Lions celebration coming, he needed a quick return to health, hence his trip to Waukesha.

Geo. L. Parker & Son, in addition to erecting two Herald-Examiner homes in Arlington Heights, is erecting four houses for H. Roy Berry at Mt. Prospect. The Herald-Examiner model homes are progressing rapidly. One of the new architecture is on South Dunton and a Windsor house is on Mitchell street.

Two Arlington Heights business men are looking forward to a real fishing trip next week. James Keiser of the National Tea Co. has not taken a vacation for eight years and thinks he is entitled to one. He has prevailed upon Wm. A. Meyer to accompany him. There will be fourteen in the party that will go to Schona, Wis., about 250 miles north of Arlington Heights, leaving Sunday for the trip.

Milburn Bros. moved their construction outfit to South Mitchell street Wednesday and will pave that job while waiting for the construction of a few culverts in Stonegate. The Stonegate improvement is being made with early strength concrete, allowing it to be put in use after five days. There is probably not a job of concrete work that has been rushed as fast as this one.

The three building material houses of Tibbitts-Cameron Lumber Co., Heller Lumber Co. and Arlington Heights Lumber Co., which represent an investment of a quarter million dollars which has been fostered by the young people. Its annual charity budget, in excess of fifty thousand dollars, is raised by the sale of a special Christmas Seal.

What will the motor cop do? Geo. King is the new motor policeman in Arlington Heights. He is hired to enforce the law. He does not know who is who and every body looks alike to him. The police department has added this new man to the force in response to a general request. They will keep him there just so long as he is a good investment for the village. His job depends upon his work. His work is to enforce the law and that means local speeders as well as the Chicago man. A warning was published in last week's issue of the Herald. Some people still insist upon speeding. Others do not recognize the stop lights and still more leave their cars parked at night without lights.

What is to be done about it? It is up to the citizens of Arlington Heights. Officer King has his orders and is ready to enforce them.

Howard Brown, who recently returned home from Illinois, will serve as relief mail carrier at the postoffice this summer. His duties began Thursday. He will relieve the regular carriers for their vacations, which necessitates that he "learn" the entire town. In this connection the Herald wonders how many patrons of the office realize how good the postmaster has been to the town in the past. The law requires that all postal mail be delivered like Arlington Heights mail bear the street addresses. A great many people have made little or no effort to have their mail addressed in that manner. The postoffice held such mail at the general delivery window. Originally it was not a great task to handle mail addressed to name only, but with the increasing number of new residents and new employees at the postoffice it is reaching a point where prompt delivery is being hindered by improper addresses. The Herald knows that the patrons will take the hint. If all of the mail you send out bears your street address, your correspondents will use it in sending letters to you.

The Arlington Heights Lions club, sponsor for the annual Fourth of July celebration at Arlington Heights, this year have plans practically completed for that annual event. A meeting of the general committee held Tuesday evening gave evidence of the usual Lion spirit and when the committee adjourned, chairman Zander stated "everything is fixed, bring on the fourth."

The Liberty Fireworks, which gave such good satisfaction a year ago, was re-engaged to produce the pyrotechnical display. They have promised that it will be even better than in 1927. Special ground pieces are being constructed for the Arlington Heights event.

An airplane stunt flyer and parachute jumper has been promised by a prominent Lion member. This member will not make the descent, but expects to be in the stunt plane.

A return will be made to an Independence Day patriotic program and a prominent speaker will be secured. The schools will be asked to assist in this part of the program.

A full card of races with a baseball game as an added attraction will be announced next week. A feature of this part of the program will be a tennis tournament.

The celebration will be held as formerly upon the high grounds. The gymnasium will be available for dancing, which is always a prominent feature of the celebration.

With the customary Lions' pep this celebration will go off with a bang that will challenge any like celebration of neighboring towns.

There are fifty Lions in Arlington Heights, everyone of which is a member of one to interest his neighbors in the great day. All of us can not be Lions, but all of us can celebrate the birthday of Uncle Sam.

Arlington Coach To Recuparate On Fishing Trip

Coach Grosse of the Arlington Heights high school does not find his coaching work fatiguing, but he does find it a little tiring. He is going to the Northwest conference and a lot of other things. Immediately after school is out and before going home, he is going to enjoy a two weeks fishing trip in Northern Minnesota. He will then spend three weeks at his home in Terre Haute, Ind., when his thoughts will go back to his work and he will attend a coaching school at Superior Wisconsin. This school, conducted by the state normal, draws some of the biggest coaches of the country and a coach expects to gain many good ideas.

New Contractors Office Appears on Davis Street

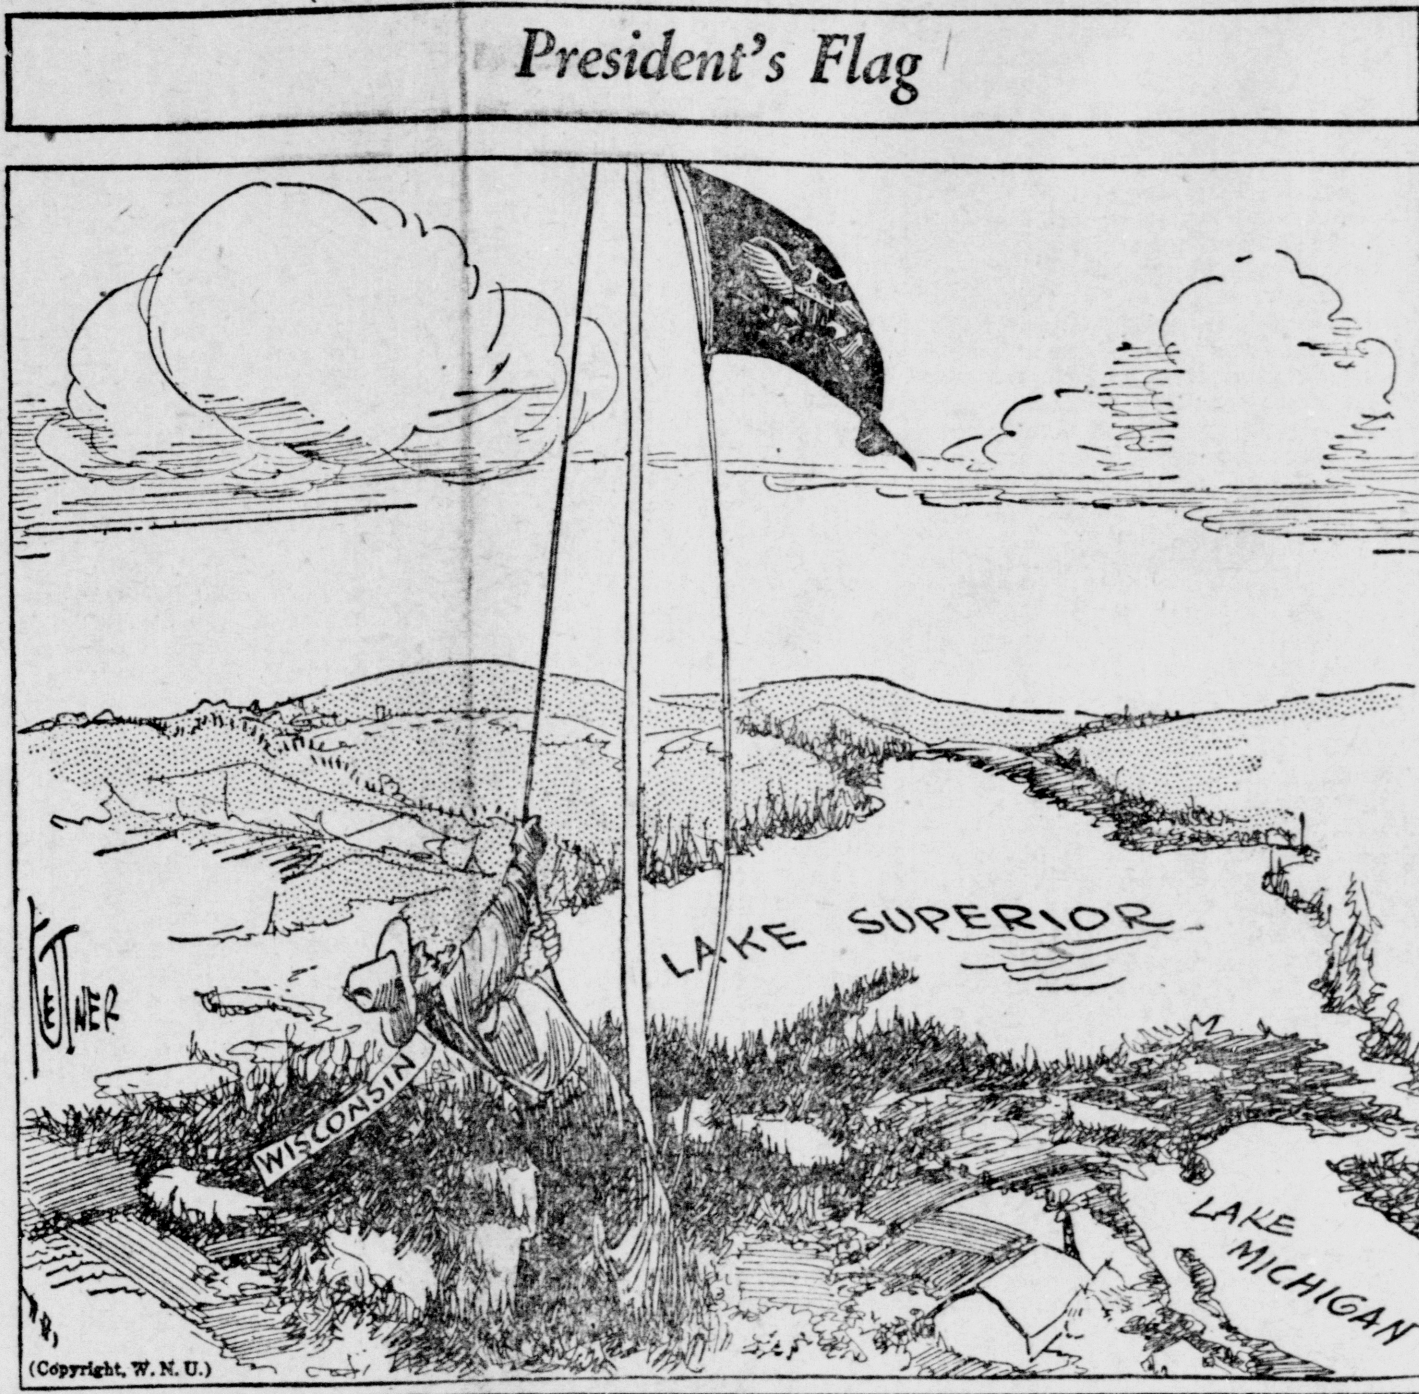

Henry Scherer, a new contractor who began operations in Arlington Heights for the first time last month, has leased from U. A. Reese ground near the Gaare Garage and erected thereon a brick front contractor's office. It will be used by him and his associated contractors, Robert Peth and Walter Siebold. Mr. Scherer is building a number of homes in the southside subdivisions, among them a one for himself on South Mitchell.

Firemen To Ask For High Grade Truck

The Arlington Heights fire department will meet Friday night and "talk over" the new fire truck. According to sentiment expressed by many of the boys, they have their hopes all set for a fire fighting unit, considerably better than that of the adjoining towns. They take the stand that they have waited a number of years to purchase a fire truck and while they are doing it, they want something aside from a "flivver." They estimate that about $10,000 will be needed.

New Grade School Principal At Palatine Ill With Appendicitis

Kenneth Gustafson, of the Arlington Heights Intermediate school and principal-elect of the Palatine grade school was operated for appendicitis last week and is recuperating in the Sycamore hospital. Supt. Whitmore visited him Sunday and reports that he is doing nicely. Mr. Gustafson regretted that he would not be able to attend the eighth grade commencement at Palatine in order to meet his new patrons, but the operation went well.

Conservation Dept. Organized To Enforce State Game Laws

The Illinois State Department of Conservation has organized for the coming year and proposes to work for the best interests of the real sportsmen of Illinois.

Case H. Redebaugh has been appointed director of conservation. The state has been divided into fourteen districts and Wm. A. Merrill with headquarters in the transportation building Chicago is inspector of District One which comprises Cook and Lake counties.

H. H. Devermann of Palatine has been appointed an investigator for district one. The investigators under the new organization take the place of the former deputy game wardens. The newly organized department of conservation intends to strictly enforce all game and fish laws. All bass caught must be ten inches long or more and all trout must be 12 inches or more.

The fish hatcheries and game farms throughout the state are doing a great work in the propagation and distribution of fish and game.

Mr. William R. Teece has been appointed hatchery supervisor. It is hoped to get an appropriation through the next legislature for the purchase of a game sanctuary in each county, where the game will always be able to find a refuge from the hunter. These game sanctuaries would do a great deal to further the conservation and propagation of game birds. The department asks all sportsmen to be what that name implies, real sportsmen and do their part toward upholding the laws of the state to the end that there may be more game for everyone. Fishermen are particularly interested in the bass season which opens on June 15 and a great many will be out in the wilds to try their luck with this game fish. The department warns all fishermen to be sure to secure a license before starting out and to observe the law in the matter of size, etc.

The department of conservation has done a great work in the propagation and conservation of game in Illinois and they should receive the hearty support of every sportsman, who are the real beneficiaries of the department's work.

Arthur Meyer Enters Realty Organization

Arthur Meyer, who has been connected with C. M. Behrens Co. resigned his position last week and has become affiliated with the Mutual Realty Exchange, whose office is in the Hagenberg building on South La Salle street. Mr. Meyer has proven himself to be a cracking good salesman and his new associates are pleased to have him with them.

Pupils of Roscoe Reed In Annual Public Recital

The piano pupils of Mr. Roscoe Reed will give their annual public recital in the M. E. church hall on Monday evening, June 25 at 8 p.m. They will be assisted by Mrs. Chas. Flynn, reader. Mrs. Flynn is a graduate of Dramatic Art at the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago. She will also render most of her own writings. A cordial welcome to all.

NEWS-O-PHOBIA

Nothing About Something
Something About Everything
Everything About Nothing

This world of ours has been going to the bow-wows for at least 5,000 years. A brick now in the British museum is a letter from father to son away at school. In his letter the father laments over the passing of the good old days. So don't get excited.

This is exam week and you're likely to hear something like this: "Bill how far off from the answer to the first problem were you?" "Oh, about four seats."

The Keynote, Senator Fess, sure stepped on the wets when he said "The Republican party is ready to call the roll on this false doctrine masquerading under the mask of liberty." "The party must go forward — it can tolerate no step backward."

If Hoover is the industrialist that men say he is, why did the stock market crash when Pennsylvania went for him? Mr. Hoover and President Wilson are strikingly alike on industrial questions and no man did more for placing economy on a sounder basis than Woodrow Wilson, but he was death on speculators and so is Hoover.

If you see a Hossfly around me, you know I've been betting at the races. You can't fool a Hossfly, he'll only stick around Hosses, cows and Jackasses, and I'm not either one of the first two.

See by the paper that New York is now the Cleanest City. Every gang broken up; every master crook either in penitentiary or in Chicago; every jail filled with crooks serving long or life terms; only only goody and law-abiding men left. What did it do? The New York jail which makes a crook stay in jail until he is sentenced, and forces judges to give prescribed sentences. We'll trade Judge Eller and a few other like-minded judges any day for Mr. Baumes.

Voliva is back and tells a breathless waiting world that the world is flat. He saw parts of the original cross, the water jars that the Nazarene used in turning water into wine and swallowed it all.

A mechanical talking man that will sell cigars, cigars, chewing gum, candy and postage stamps, give back change, and say thank you, as well as advertise his wares, is not a pipe dream. The United Cigar Stores believes in it to the tune of $25,000,000 which it has invested in this store to be run by a machine.

Even a worm will turn. Bottom place Chicago Sox trim the Yanks straight, and the Yanks have only lost eight all season.

Chicago is a good place to live. Sales for autos last year lower in the states as a whole, higher in Cook Co. Retail stores sales lower in the U. S. higher in Cook county. Building in the suburbs has outdistanced all world records. Criminal rate lower in the U. S. higher in Cook — time to stop right now.

Last week of school. "Dad can you write with your eyes closed?" "Certainly, son, why?" Son, "then sign my report."

Busy Week For Speeders At Court Of Judge H. J. Byrd

Judge Byrd called to order the speeders court Monday afternoon at four o'clock and the offenders were shot thru the judicial machinery at a speed that rivaled the haste they showed when they were nabbed by the police.

Case No. 1 was Embert Wille, who paid $5.00 and costs. His official speed was 35 miles an hour. Russel Bickford was given a ticket by the cop for doing fifty miles an hour. The judge gave him a ticket for $10 and costs. James Woodworth was another fifty mile driver, who drew $10 and costs.

Fifty miles an hour seems to be a popular speed. J. H. Roamer has such a charge against him and had deposited a $20 cash bond. This case was continued.

Same Blieski was doing 45 miles when he was stopped, but he could not travel fast enough to get here to appear in court and a capias for his arrest has been issued.

Edward Buhk was given a fine of $25 and costs for reckless driving, and Louis Adamson, traveling 40 miles an hour paid a fine of ten dollars and costs.

They were not all speeding cases, however, Clifford Graham, a negro, on complaint of the race track, was arrested for vagrancy and was given a fine of $25 and costs to be paid by hard labor upon our streets.

Arlington Park An Aid To Local Taxing Bodies

It is understood that Arlington Park officials and F. F. Daniels, assessor of Palatine township, came to an agreement last week in regard to their personal and real estate assessment.

The total is reported to be over three-quarters of a million dollars, which will be a great aid to several of the local taxing bodies.

Those that will profit the greatest are the Arlington Heights high school, District 15, Palatine grade school and the rural school of district 19.

The track property lies entirely within Palatine township, but the greater part is within the Arlington Heights high school district. With the new building program, the increased valuation will be more than welcomed by the latter district.

Gertrude Fitz Patrick Becomes Bride Of Mr. M. C. Shaefer

In St. James church Tuesday, June 12, at 9 o'clock in the morning, Miss Gertrude Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fitz Patrick, was united in marriage to Mr. Mathias Clement Shaefer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Antone Schaefer, by the Rev. Peter Gail.

The bridal party entered the church in the following order, Mr. Harold Fitz Patrick, Miss Pauline Schaefer, Antone and Alvina Schaefer, brother of the bride and groom, and twin sisters of bride groom. They preceded the bride, escorted by her father, down the aisle to the altar, where the bridegroom entered from the vestry, where the bride's father, Mr. Charles Fitz Patrick, placing his daughters hand in the bridegroom's, gave her in marriage. The sacred nuptial mass was read and the solemn rites of matrimony were impressively concluded.

Miss Korski was at the organ and the choir furnished the music appropriate for the occasion.

A simple yet artistically beautiful gown was becomingly worn by the bride, with a long embroidered tulle veil, with a coronet capote and chintilly lace, encrusted with pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

She was pretty, and more, she was bright and all alive and possessed a demure and dignified charm.

The bridesmaids, twin sisters of the bridegroom, pretty blondes, as like as two rose buds, were wearing gowns, one pink and the other green; their bouquets were of pink roses.

The ceremony was witnessed by a large number of guests. The community players forming a large group.

Following the ceremony the bride and groom were escorted to the home of the bride's parents, where a ten o'clock breakfast was served. The regular wedding dinner was served at four o'clock; also in the home of the bride's parents, a pretty, really lovely place. The rooms were decorated with flowers. Three long tables were prettily laid and the bride's mother, with her assistants, served a generous and delicious repast.

The bride and groom were appropriately crowned with a huge bell in pink and white, with streamers in the same colors, reaching down to the table. Masses of pink and white peonies, everywhere exhaled beauty and fragrance.

There had been showers of beautiful gifts, as well as wedding gifts, and all the delightful features that form the background of a favorite daughter's marriage.

Miss Gertrude Fitz Patrick has spent her life, her school days, and so recently entrance into the zone of matrimony, she is in Arlington Heights. She has always been a favorite. Recently she became more widely known through her natural and gifted delineation of characters in plays given by the Community Players.

The bridegroom, Mr. Mathias Shaefer, is the son of one of our newer residents, Mr. Antone Schaefer, and with his father, forms the firm of A. M. Schaefer, builders.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathias Schaefer are taking a motor trip and on their return, will make their new home in one of the new Schaefer homes on Highland avenue, which is to be fitted up for their occupancy.

The best wishes of many friends will attend them for happiness, usefulness and abiding love.

E. H. Bolte Disposes Of Entire Shoe Stock

It is commencement week at school and also graduation from a "shoemaker" for E. H. Bolte, who has fitted the last pair of shoes for his customers. His entire stock of shoes were disposed of last week to a Chicago auction house and his shelves are clear of footwear. Mr. Bolte has supplied the people of Arlington Heights with footwear for many years and following his determination a few months ago to discontinue the shoe store has been busy selling out ever since. His stock was so large, however, that it seemed an almost endless job, and when the opportunity came to "clean house" of the entire stock, he did so.

Mr. Bolte will continue his shoe repairing department.

The village treasurer will fit up the former sales room into a village office. The duties of the village collector and treasurer are becoming increasingly heavy and it will not be long before additional help will be needed. Mr. Bolte will devote his entire time to this. The proposed sewer improvement is a big job for the collector's office, as well as for the contractors.

Eastern Star notes will be found on page three.

HI JACK A TRUCK LOAD FIREWORKS

One of the most daring and spectacular daylight holdups of the season was staged on North Main street of Wheaton last Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, when three men stopped a truck owned by the American Ice, Fuel & Carriage Co., of Franklin Park and loaded with fireworks to be delivered to stand on Geneva road. The robbers stopped the truck, flashed guns on Mr. V. L. Anderson and his son, Babe, who were driving the truck, ordered them out of their vehicle and into a large brown Buick sedan. One of the robbers then took over the wheel of the truck and drove away the other two men driving Mr. Anderson and his son around the adjoining suburbs for a period of three hours, letting them out about a mile and a half south of Okauchie, Ill. The fireworks were then, leaving all of the tools of the trade, but not the load was covered by insurance.

The truck was discovered by the Chicago police Tuesday at the corner of Kedzie and 25th street, Chicago. The fireworks were gone, leaving a large hole in the side of the truck. The haulers did not even leave the key of the car.

The truck stolen this week from the American Ice & Fuel Co. was located at Kedzie and 25th street by the Chicago police. The truck had been stripped of all tools, also the load of fireworks that it contained when stolen near Wheaton.

Toro's Jockey Rode His First Horse At Palatine

When Jockey Eddie Ambrose rode Toro home to victory in the American derby Saturday he was winning glory for himself and his mount. He used to ride the animal around the barn yard at the Wilson farm. Then came the old Lake county fair and Dr. Wilson took one of his running horses over to Libertyville for the races. Eddie Ambrose rode the Wilson entry to victory and thereby got his start as a jockey.

At that time Dr. John Wilson had a string of runners and a negro working for Dr. Wilson had a couple of broken down runners, which he kept at the Wilson farm.

Prominent Chicago Pastor Will Speak At Commencement

The 1928 commencement exercises of the Arlington Heights high school will be held this Friday evening at the high school assembly. The speaker will be Rev. Preston Bradley, of the Peoples Church of Chicago, who has a wide reputation as a speaker. He is a board regularily over station WMAQ.

Arlington Heights Band Give First Open Air Concert

The municipal band of Arlington Heights, gave their first open air concert of the season Tuesday evening.

No announcement of the event had been made, but the sound of the music soon brought scores of autos and a large audience around the band stand. Our band boys are liberal with their music and this organization is one of the many that mark Arlington Heights as a young city.

Chas. P. Gray Take Over H. Roy Berry Southside Properties

Announcement was made this week that Chas. P. Gray organization had taken over the H. Roy Berry properties south of the Landmeier & Giescke properties, which are being marketed by the Gray organization. Plans are in the making for several new houses in the new tract, which lies north of the Palatine-center road and thru which pavements will be laid this year.

Contract Awarded For New Bensenville Village Well

The village board held a rather lengthy session last week. All members were present except trustee Herman Beyer. The meeting lasted into the wee sma' hours, as the board meets but twice a month and with the vast improvements now going on, much is brought to their attention each meeting. The bids were recently opened for the proposed new 20 inch well and the W. L. Thorn company being the lowest bidder were awarded the contract. Seven bids were entered, the highest being $6,884, and the lowest for $3,228. Mr. Thorn, by the way, is the same company who sunk our deep well a few years ago and who knows exactly just what strata he has to contend with. The board accepted the agreement as furnished by the contractor which calls for the work to begin not later than June 15, and to be completed within 90 days. A representative of the Remington & Rand Company called on the board and showed them plans and prices of a fire proof safe which the board contemplates purchasing for the use of the village collector for the protection of his records, including special assessments, which he has to keep in his office at his home. The board also voted favorably on a motion to allow the President of the board of local improvements a month's vacation without compensation, while the remainder of the said board look after his duties during his absence. The board also received a permit from the state for laying concrete pavement on either side of the present state pavement on York street. A petition, signed by many property owners asking that the unoccupied little building, formerly used as a real estate office at the corner of Mason and Green streets, be pronounced a public nuisance, as it is now a harboring place for tramps and undesirable transients, which makes it an unsafe place for children to pass evenings. They further petitioned for its removal. The board will take immediate action on the matter.

A member of the Business Men's Association, presented a drawing showing the streets they would ask to be closed to autos and other vehicles during the hours their carnival will be open to the public, Sept 1 to 8, inclusive. Said streets will be filled with fun making concessions for the amusement of those attending the carnival. Everything for the entertainment of those attending that can be secured will be on the grounds and this big carnival bids fair to be the biggest and best that has ever been attempted in Bensenville. Those from afar who formerly resided in our beautiful city, when it was but a small almost unknown village with a corner grocery as a postoffice, who contemplate visiting the old home town will arrange their visit so as to be here the first week in September, when they are sure of meeting more people here than they would at any other time or place. All in all the village board had a lengthy and very busy meeting. Many citizens were there to listen to the business of the board, which interests every citizen who has the future of our city at heart.

Baccalaureate Service Of Bensenville High Were Well Attended

The baccalaureate services for the Seniors of Bensenville high school were held in the high school auditorium Sunday night, June 10. With the beautiful silk flag unfurled and placed at the right of the altar, which was decorated in beautiful colors, the stage dotted here and there with palms and ferns the entire setting was beautiful. It was a perfect summer evening and a large audience gathered for the services. As Miss Rilling played a march the graduates and the members of the faculty took their places. The professional music was played by Miss Rilling, the benediction offered by Rev. Clausen of Churchville. The text was given by Rev. Plassman. An interesting talk, "Great Living" was given by Rev. Fred Harrison of Elmhurst. Rev. Harrison's address was an inspiration not only to the graduates, but to the audience.

DuPage Boy To Get Degree In Agriculture U. of I.

Urbana, Ill., June 12.—Floyd Bennett, son of O. C. Bennett, who lives on a farm near Lombard, will be awarded the degree of bachelor of science from the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, at the fifty-seventh annual commencement, Wednesday, June 13, according to an official report.

During the past four years, young Bennett has gained several scholastic distinctions and taken a leading part in student activities in the agricultural college. He is a member of Theta Kappa Nu, a national social fraternity.

Bennett is one of the 100 students who are graduating from the College of Agriculture this year. The course he has taken fits him either for life work in the profession of farming, for technical positions in industries closely related to agriculture, or for public service in all lines of investigational work or extension service allied to agriculture.

Itasca Residents Celebrate Their Silver Wedding Anniversary

Silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Schweitzer, near Itasca, was celebrated on Sunday, May 27, 1928, afternoon and evening. Although it was raining, the guests arrived early. A delicious supper was served to 100 guests, by their three eldest daughters. The dining room and parlor were decorated in pink and white, the table was decorated with 25 white carnations and a pretty wedding cake, made by their two eldest daughters, Ida and Rose, was trimmed in white with silver leaves. Mrs. Schweitzer wore a silver gray flat crepe dress. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received.

The guests that were present at the occasion with their families were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin, daughter and son; Mr. and Mrs. Louie Martin; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boehne and two sons; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harbeck, Sr.; Mr. Fred Harbeck; Mr. and Mrs. William Harbeck and family; Mrs. Mary Bork; Mr. and Mrs. Louie Bork and family; Mr. and Mrs. August Wiemer and family; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dressing and family; Mr. and Mrs. Barney Doherty; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Duntzman; Mrs. Lena Hansen and sons; Mr. and Mrs. William Klaus and family; Mr. and Mrs. Will Gronemeier and family; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Forke and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Fryer Marwood and family; Mr. and Mrs. August Wade and family; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoffman and son; Mr. and Mrs. William Hirsch; Mr. William Forke; Mr. Eldon Tesch; Herbert Bear; Ervin and Edmond Wade; Alvin and Alma Praefke; Fred and John Mueller; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wagers; Mrs. Mary Wagers; Henry Wagers; Mr. and Mrs. Knoblock and family; Wilbert, Mildred and Florence Landmeier; Mr. and Mrs. Louie Bollmann and family.

Playing cards and dancing were the amusement for young and old folks. After midnight the guests all departed for their homes, leaving many good wishes and congratulations, wishing they would live to celebrate their golden anniversary.

The commencement exercises for this class were also held in the high school auditorium Thursday evening, June 14. A wonderful program was given by the Senior class. A great many people thronged the building to witness the second graduation exercises from the new school.

Dress-Alike Party

Perhaps the dinkiest dance I have been to lately was Lady Joram's. All the dancers were dressed exactly alike—up to the masks, which grinned. There were some charming embarrassments. And the queer thing was that when everybody unmasked for breakfast, even then, somehow, we all seemed alike. Quite remarkable, wasn't it? "The Evening of Fashion," in G. K.'s Weekly.

LIBRARY IS GAINING IN POPULARITY

The Itasca public library is the largest building in Itasca. Why? Because it has the most stories in it. It has outgrown its original shelves and Mr. Weber has installed more. It is due to Mr. Weber's good workmanship that the library is kept supplied with book space. These shelves are being filled with good literature through the generosity of those who appreciate what a library means to a community. New books are bought with the dues people are contributing, and we shall have, very soon, a living, vital, forceful information service station right in our own community. We aim to please every one in reading, however, we aim to elevate the mind as well as entertain. If you want to read flashy, trashy literature, the kind that never can, by any measure, do any thing but poison the mind, don't come to the library looking for something to read. You will not find it here. We carry the good stock in trade.

The real good books, worth while books, keep coming in. Mr. W. H. Droegemueller called at the library one evening and presented us with the book "Fur Truths," written and compiled by Abraham Gottlieb, who has obtained this information by personal experience during his years in the fur business. Mr. Droegemueller has been closely associated with Mr. Gottlieb and is, himself, an authority on furs. This book is not only entertaining and instructive, but an authentic work of reference. It is, at once, one of the foundation volumes for the Itasca Public Library.

Mr. and Mrs. Rathbun brought in 75 good, standard works of fiction Wednesday evening. Now, that the spring house cleaning is done and the seeds are planted, waiting to grow, you better come in and look around; do some of the reading you always planned to do. You have the opportunity.

Miss Frances Bartlett of Elgin, one of our loved teachers of the past, donated the entire works of both of the old stand-bys—Dickens and Scott—whose stories have stood the test of time and still remain with us.

Mr. and Mrs. Lake remembered us and brought in 50, the other day, some of these may be used for reference.

Mrs. Wyse donated good fiction, while Little Marie thought of the "Teeny-Weeneys" and gave of her supply for the kiddies.

Mr. B. V. Clover, ever mindful of our progress, sent in a supply for both adult and juvenile.

Several new books have been purchased for the shelves. Children who love "The Twin" books will be glad to make the acquaintance of "The Dutch Twins" and "The American Twins."

"Danny Meadow Mouse" and "Bobby Coon" by Burgess, are favorites with both boys and girls; while the "Teeny-Weeneys" gurgled over the adventures of "Peter Rabbit" and "Benjamin Bunny" by Potter.

The girls are getting acquainted with "Rebecca of Sunny Brook Farm" and a "Daughter of the Rich." While boys are thrilled with the adventures of "Tom Sawyer" and his playmate "Huck Finn." No comment needed on "Treasure Island." Where there is a boy, there you will find that book. But they will have to chuckle and grin when they read "Chuckles and Grinn" by Matthews.

While selecting, with care, the books for our juniors, we have not overlooked the requests of our adult readers. Some one asked for the "Bridge of San Luis Rey." This is a Pulitzer Prize novel and a "best seller" and so popular, does not stay on the shelf.

Modern poetry is represented by Sandburg's "Slabs of the Sunburst West" which contains some of the best poetry of the period. Sandberg's "Abraham Lincoln: Prairie Days" is one of non-fiction books being read by many. We thought of our scientific poultry fancier at this time and no doubt but that the returns will be in "dollars" if the advice given in "The Dollar Hen" is strictly followed. We understand that so far the infant chicks have been a source of care and annoyance, but he thinks ever of the future.

There is great demand for up-to-date fiction. So far as our means will allow, we are aiming to keep up to trend of the times. Some of the recent additions are "Beauty and the Beast" by Norris, Walpole's "Wintersmoo" (a best seller), "Debonair" by G. B. Steen, "Perennial Bachelor" by Parrish, "Private Life of Helen of Troy" by John Erskine, "Lost Ectasy" by Mary Roberts Rinehart. The "Rosary" by Barclay.

Those who have read the popular "Mother India" will want to read the reply of a son of India, Mukerji, who writes facts for the public in "Son of India Answers." "Trader Horn" was so popular last year, that the second volume has been written by "Harold the Webbed" and is quite as popular as the first book.

Have you noticed the brand new sign on our door. We are grateful to Mr. George Hobbs for this thoughtful donation. Mr. Hobbs is a former acquaintance returning to Itasca to make his home. He already has the library habit. This habit is contagious and is rapidly spreading among us.

Mr. George Goeddeke donated a year insurance on our books, in the Aetna Insurance Company.

Now that we are nicely started and have something to work upon, we are opening our "Children's Hour" on Tuesday, June 19. The Kindergarten age, 3 to 6 years, at 10 a. m. The first and second grades at 11 a. m. The third and fourth grades at 3 p. m. The fifth and sixth grades at 4 p. m. In the evening there will be book reviews for the upper grades and high school students. At 8:30 p. m. on Wednesday evenings, there will be book reviews for the adult mind.

There will be a "shower" on the library all day long Tuesday, the 19th. Package (of books) and envelopes (money donations or monthly pledges) from 10 a. m. to 8:30 p. m. At 9 p. m. the packages and envelopes will be opened by the library board. Everybody invited; a cordial welcome extended to all. This is the opportunity to do what you have intended to do. The library aims to benefit the community, will you help us to do it?

BUSINESS MEN FINISH PLANS FOR CARNIVAL

Monday evening the Bensenville Business Men's Association met in the spacious dining room of William Koebelman's home and after a chicken dinner at 7 p. m. transacted their business meeting around the table. Eighteen members were present and the main subject for discussion was the big carnival to be put on at Bensenville Sept. 1 to 8 inclusive, sponsored by the association. The streets to be used were selected and will be Center street from railroad avenue to Green avenue and Green avenue from York street to Addison street. This will give them three blocks for the midway and all on the south side of the railroad tracks. At first it was thought to include Main street but the members were of the opinion that there would be less danger of accidents if the entire midway was located on one side of the tracks. The midway will consist of the usual rides, shows, racks, stands and other kinds of amusement concessions. It is expected that the entire three blocks will be occupied and Bensenville is preparing to feed and accommodate thousands of people each day and every day of the big carnival. The various committees were appointed at the meeting Monday evening and the association will hold another meeting at the same place Monday evening, June 18, at which time much information will be handed out. The main thing now is to remember the dates, Sept. 1 to 8 inclusive, and if you ever expect to enjoy another real home coming make this one it, for that is what it is going to be. Relatives of the citizens of Bensenville and community will come from both east and west coast to attend the affair. If you are here you will see people you have not met for years.

A New York couple have entered into a marriage agreement wherein they contract to have six children and arbitrate all quarrels. This looks like a contract in which surety bonds with penalty ought to be required.

OBITUARY

MRS. CHRIST FRASE

Mrs. Christ H. Frase nee Lucy Schmidt was born Nov. 16, 1885, one mile north of Bensenville. She attended public school and for a short time was later confirmed in St. John's Evangelical church by Rev. Henry Wolf. She was married to Mr. C. H. Frase of Bellwood, Ill., and after residing in Bensenville several years they went west and engaged in fruit farming about ten years in Wenatchee, Washington, and Pomona, California. On account of the illness and death of her father last year they and returned to Bensenville where they recently purchased a home on Center street and they were making wonderful plans for its improvement but the plans of her Heavenly father were at variance with hers and she was called away to that eternal rest June 8 after only a week's illness.

Mrs. Frase always looked well and healthy, but had her own share of troubles. She was afflicted with severe gall stone pains and was taken to Elmhurst hospital. The operation was very serious one, gradually she grew weaker and died June 8, aged 42 years, 8 months and 22 days.

Her many friends all hoped for her full recovery but death took her away a week later. Her only child, a son, died in infancy and from that time she took genuine interest in the children of others; in fact her entire life was spent in strict attention to duty and in helping others. She always did more than was expected of her in whatever activity she took part. All who knew her will miss her with increased keenness as time goes on. She was a member of Wide Awake Camp No. 7197 R. N. A. as well as a member of the Ladies' Aid society of Friedens church. Services were held at Friedens church on Monday, June 11, Rev. Wagner officiating. The ceremonies were enhanced by the presence of the Aid in a body and by the Royal Neighbors ritualistic services at the grave.

Her pastor spoke words of comfort and consolation based on Psalm 16, 6. "The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage." Mrs. Anna Magers and Mrs. Rosa Franzen sang a very touching duet, "In the Garden," it was one of the departed's favorite hymns, the ladies aid had selected. "Some times we will understand." Many beautiful tokens of sympathy adorned her last resting place. In Mount Emblem cemetery she was laid to rest.

She is mourned by her beloved husband, her mother, Mrs. Wilhelm Schmidt, her five brothers, Benjamin, Reuben, Samuel, Theodore, John, by her three sisters, Mrs. Flora Kolze, Mrs. Henriette Breutner, Mrs. Christine Sprandel, four brothers and three sisters-in-law from her husbands side also numerous relatives and friends.

Voice of the People

We Are Wondering Why?

Last fall the south half of Main street from York to Addison was paved. That was fine as it gave the business places along that street hard road for the winter. Now the north half is paved and the entire street closed. Is it fair to the business places along the street, or should that part of the street that was paved last fall be open for their convenience and the convenience of their customers? Could not the new paving be closed with 6 inch plank stood on edge so that it could be stepped over by those who wish to alight from their cars and enter those places of business and if any autoist insisted on using the new pavement let the law take its course and deal with them accordingly. days shut off from the buying public is a long time especially when one half of the street is there to be used and in fact was used all winter. We would say used all winter. Green avenue if it was not for the fact that some of that street is entirely new pavement and is full width recently laid, with no street to turn off the old pavement. Addison street was also only paved half width last fall and when the other half is done we see no reason why the old part should not be used from Green street to the depot. There may be a reason but as we said at the beginning "We Wonder Why?"

Center street is now paved from the north village limits to the south limits. Yes, we are sure going some now and when the Big Carnival is put on every street will be in fine shape for traffic.

Tie Vote On Sewer At Itasca Board

On June 5th the monthly meeting of the village board was held with all members present. All outstanding bills were ordered paid. The chairman of the street committee was asked to look up prices on road oil. A vote was taken on the sewer question which resulted in a tie. The President casting the deciding vote. Those who voted for sewers were Rosen, Geik and Hoppenstadt and those against were Schneider, Edecker and Senne. A motion was made by trustee Schneider to change engineers, motion carried. A change will be made and the services of the Hancock engineering Co. were dispensed with. The city treasurer's bond was presented and approved at this meeting, Will Mess being treasurer. Board adjourned.

Card of Thanks
We earnestly desire to thank those who so kindly came to our aid during the illness and death of our departed loved one, Mrs. Lucy Frase. Also for the beautiful floral offerings and all who tried to comfort us in our sorrow.

TRI-PLY HOUSES with STONE EXTERIOR are ARTISTIC, COMFORTABLE, and PERMANENT

A Tri-Ply House with Stone Exterior EXPRESSIVE INDIVIDUALITY

The first recognizable difference between a Tri-Ply House and a house built by old style methods is the very manifest architectural individuality of the Tri-Ply creation. Tri-Ply Construction enables you to have a real "dream" home—designed and finished exactly as you have always wanted a home to be. There is no limitation as to architectural style or effects.

Indeed the design of a Tri-Ply House is truthfully said to be limited only by the talent of the architect who conceives it.

PERFECT INSULATION

Tri-Ply Construction by its very nature is the finest kind of natural insulation. It keeps winter heat in and summer heat out better than any other type of residential building can do. It is sound-proof and moisture-proof — a more comfortable, more healthful home in which to live.

Nothing shows the insulating properties of a house in their true light so plainly as the humidity test. It is interesting therefore to learn that in a Tri-Ply House where automatic humidifiers are used tests made in zero weather show a relative humidity of 68 per cent can be maintained without the slightest sign of moisture on the walls or ceilings. Blow torch tests show that it takes three hour for a torch at 1800 degrees applied on the outside wall to even slightly effect the mercury in a thermometer on the inside wall opposite the blow torch.

The statistics of a gas company in one section where several Tri-Ply Houses are in service show that these houses can be heated for less money than any other houses in the same territory.

Actual tests also show Tri-Ply Houses to be 8 to 16 degrees cooler in summer than other houses in the same locality.

TRI-PLY CONSTRUCTION—PERMANENT

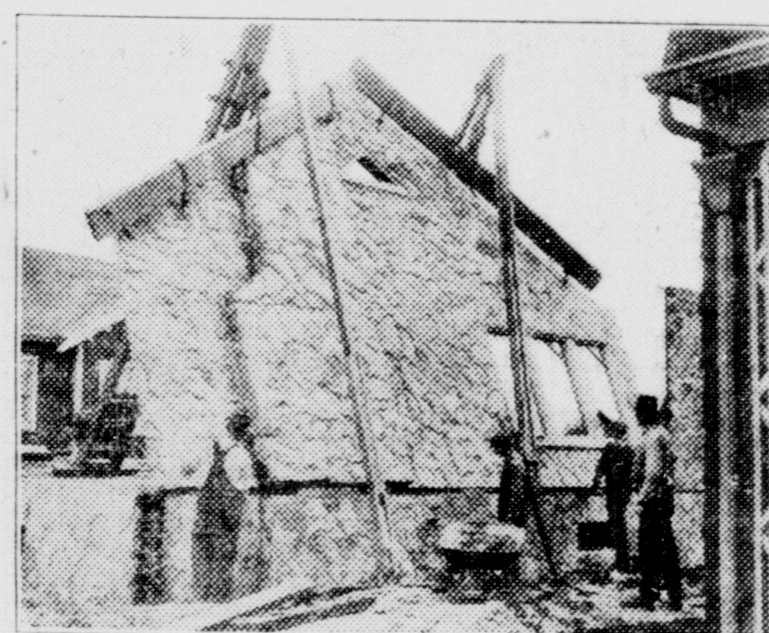

Tri-Ply Walls comprise an outer stone surface laid in cement mortar, a middle core of cinder concrete and an inner insulating plaster base, inseparably united and reinforced with steel, making walls such as have never before been built in any country in any age. This is the crowning achievement of the builder's art.

Preferably, steel joists, cinder concrete foundation floors and partitions are used to make the construction fire-proof throughout.

The strength of this construction was convincingly proved in the case of two Tri-Ply Houses in Centralia, Illinois, which were the only houses in that town to go thru the terrible cyclone of the year 1925 entirely unscathed.

CONSTRUCTING WALL ON THE GROUND

RAISING TRI-PLY WALL IN PLACE

Tri-Ply Construction, as the building world now knows it, is destined to revolutionize all previous building methods. It offers to builders of the smallest bungalow or the largest mansion new beauty, greater permanence, remarkable economy.

You who contemplate the building of a home want the most attractive and most serviceable house that you can afford to build.

Let us show you how you can build your "dream" home with an artistic stone exterior and doubly insulated walls reinforced with steel to cost no more than a first class brick house. The best way to be convinced that this is possible is for you to arrange to go with us and see some of our attractive Tri-Ply Homes.

We have plans for thirty distinct creations in Tri-Ply Homes from which to select. Correspondence invited from all who contemplate building and from contractors and builders.

A TRI-PLY HOUSE
is nearing completion in Stonegate at Arlington Heights.

We urge builders to call and see it.

JOHN H. HOOD

1864-1928

Glenview is mourning the death of John Hood, one of its prominent citizens, who succumbed to an operation for gonorrhea at the University hospital Tuesday morning.

John Hawks Hood was born February 24, 1864, and died Tuesday, June 5, 1928. He was the fifth child of John and Margaret Hood and is the first of their six children to pass away.

In 1892 he moved to Chicago and six years later was united in marriage to Laura Maclean of Chicago. To them there were born six children, all of who survive their father. They are Mrs. Warren Hathway of Chicago; Mrs. Marian McNeil of Elgin; Mrs. Anthony Cosner of Park Ridge; Mrs. Walter Reynolds of Edison Park; Harry Hood of Chicago and Jack Hood of Glenview.

Mr. Hood was a Marshall Field employee for fifteen years, but nine years ago, he left their employ to assume a position as Forest Preserve warden in the Glenview Forest Preserve. At that time he moved his family to their present Glenview home on Glenview road.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Stanton at the home Thursday, June 7, and the Glenview Lodge A. F. & A. M. took charge of the services at the cemetery.

Musical numbers were rendered by the Imperial Quartette.

Members of the family left to mourn his death are Mrs. Laura Hood, Glenview; Mrs. Anne Smith of St. Louis; Mrs. Margaret Johnston, Connelburg, Pa.; Mrs. Sadie Johnston, Wilmington, Pa.; Mrs. Wm. Gardner, Chicago and S. E. Hood, LaCrosse, Wis. In addition there are eight grandchildren.

Mr. Hood was popular in lodge, church and political work in the village and leaves a host of friends, who extend their sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.

Former Morton Grove

Young Lady Loses Life

Palatine Chapter Large Turnout For Patrons' Night

Friday evening, June 9 was Patrons' night at Palatine Chapter No. 585, O. E. S.

The committee in charge had spared no efforts in procuring the choicest blossoms of the season with which to decorate the chapter room.

Elizabeth Pohlman, P. M. of Palatine chapter and Samuel E. Pollack, W. P. of Antioch chapter graced the East as acting Worthy Matron and acting Worthy Patron with the following corps of officers: this is speaking of our right-minded fathers. In our home fathers Irma Paddock, W. M., Mayflower Chapter, Wauconda as A. M. C. J. Wilson, W. P., Norwood Park Chapter, as Secretary.

The work was exemplified in a very commendable manner. Emily Schermer and Dorothy Skibbe were the candidates and we welcome them to our chapter.

The Worthy Patron, George Wilson, gave a lovely talk, and thanked the acting officers, the various committees and all who in any way had had a share in making the evening so successful.

Acting Worthy Patron Samuel Pollack who formerly was a resident of Palatine also gave a very interesting talk.

The acting Worthy Matron, Elizabeth Pahlman and the Worthy Matron Mabelle Jasper also gave a short talk. The Worthy Matron thanked the committee for the work they had done.

This being Patrons' night, Brother Wilson had a few of the stations filled by members of his family, Ethel Kitson who served as Esther, is a cousin, Bessie Nusser, who served as Martha, is a niece and Marion Hitzman who served as Chaplain is a sister-in-law.

After the meeting refreshments were served in the dining room.

June Calendar

June 19—Ass. Matron Isabelle Stroker will serve as Adah at Norwood Park Chapter.

June 21—W. M. Mabelle Jasper, and W. P. George Wilson and their entire corps of officers will exemplify the work at Niagara Chapter, Chicago.

I'M THE GUY

I'm the guy who put Knock in Knockers.

I'm the guy who starts the anti-booster clubs.

I'm the guy who always carries a pail of cold water to throw on every booster's program.

I'm the guy who can find fault with everyone's ideas for the progress of the town. No I never give any ideas, don't know how.

I'm the guy who always hollers about the world coming to an end, the government going rotten, every good cause having some sinister aim, and the general downfall of humanity.

I'm the guy who never boosts, and don't want to know how.

I'm the guy that believes everyone is crooked, and don't want to see honest men anywhere or anywhere.

Where will you find me? Oh, I am always conspicuous when someone is trying to make this a better world to live in. I have a front seat at all doings for the public good. You bet I never let them slip anything good over me, without a laity objection. Well folks I must go knocking along, yours for more objections.

Twenty-One Graduate From Niles Center Catholic School

The commencement exercises of St. Peter's Catholic school, of Niles Center, will be held Sunday evening, June 17, in Kellen auditorium. The admission will be fifty cents. The graduates are: Catherine Busscher, John Busscher, Lona Dahm, Joseph Fruche, Emil Horvath, Margaret Hoetzer, Loretta Immel, Teresa Meier, Margaret Meyer, Mary Michela, Gerald Mills, Mary Modaff, Nicholas Modaff, John Neilsen, Josephine Ottlinger, Helen Risch, Dorothy Schbauer, Edward Schuetz, Erwin Seul, Jacob Weber, Eleanor Winandy.

DEDICATION OF ORPHANS HOME SOON

A cordial invitation is extended to you, your family and friends to attend the Dedicatory Services of the new Home for Children at Bensenville Sunday, June 24, at 2 p. m.

The first part of the program will be in German and the latter part in English. First on the program will be a Welcome to You, followed by a scripture reading and a song by the children of the home. Then the main address and a song by the entire audience. Following this will be an address in English, another song by the children, and several speeches by members of the Ways and Means committee. Then singing will prevail while a free-will offering will be taken for the benefit of the Home. The program will be rendered in front of the main building and while it is in progress all buildings will be closed. After the offering is taken the new buildings will be dedicated followed by the benediction. At the close all buildings will be thrown open for general inspection. Guides will be stationed in every department to guide you from place to place. It is a wonderful building and to miss going through it will be missing an opportunity of a life time. The chapel on the main floor is well worth your notice, being beautifully decorated and spacious. The new cement walks have lately been put in around the buildings and the lawns freshly seeded. It has taken a lot of work on the part of the committee to get these beautiful lawns started and it is earnestly hoped that all visitors will use the same discretion about keeping off the new lawns that they would if it were their own personal property. Every department of the new home is up to date in every manner and on that day you will have a chance to see the whole interior under the supervision of competent guides. It will be a grand and glorious day and it is expected that thousands of people will attend.

POLICE SHOOT TWO MAD DOGS

Another case of a mad dog roving our streets, has to be reported. Last Thursday afternoon a rabid canine got on our main street, and before being shot by our local police, had entered several of the business places and bitten at several pedestrians along the street. What Franklin Park needs is a strict enforcement of our dog tax, and every dog not taxed should be done away with. If your pet is not worth the village tax, then it is not worth keeping.

Tuesday evening, a second mad dog was discovered on Franklin avenue. The police were compelled to shoot it. No one was bit, but the animal snapped at several people.

Palatine Chapter Large Turnout For Patrons' Night

Friday evening, June 9 was Patrons' night at Palatine Chapter No. 585, O. E. S.

The committee in charge had spared no efforts in procuring the choicest blossoms of the season with which to decorate the chapter room.

Elizabeth Pohlman, P. M. of Palatine chapter and Samuel E. Pollack, W. P. of Antioch chapter graced the East as acting Worthy Matron and acting Worthy Patron with the following corps of officers: this is speaking of our right-minded fathers. In our home fathers Irma Paddock, W. M., Mayflower Chapter, Wauconda as A. M. C. J. Wilson, W. P., Norwood Park Chapter, as Secretary.

Jacob Schwingel, W. P., Wheeling Chapter, Treasurer.

Flora Brustman, W. M., Park Ridge Chapter as Cond.

Marion Hitzman, Humboldt Pk. Chapter Chicago as Chap.

Henry Sass, W. P., Lounsbury Chapter, Barrington as Marshall.

Dela Krueger, Org. Palatine Chapter as organist.

Gertrude Zeihn, W. M., Des Plaines Chapter as Adah.

Ross, W. M., Lounsbury Chapter, Barrington as Ruth.

Ethel Kitson, F. M., Lounsbury Chapter, Barrington, as Esther.

Bessie Nusser, Humboldt Pk. Chapter, Chicago as Martha.

Elmira Heibick, W. M. Wheeling Chapter as Electa.

Ray Paddock, W. P., Mayflower Chapter, Wauconda, as Warden.

R. Jahn, F. P., Palatine Chapter as Sentinel.

Myra Fosket and Mildred Sandborn soloists of Palatine Chapter as soloists.

Among those escorted and introduced were Mable Wilson, Grand Lecturer and the following of Grand Chapter committees: Flora Brustman from Norwood Park and Marie Sass of Lounsbury Chapter, Barrington, obituary; and our own Worthy Matron, Mable Jasper, page: Five Past Matrons, four Past Patrons; also one Worthy Matron, Mabelle Jasper and our Worthy Patron, George Wilson.

The work was exemplified in a very commendable manner. Emily Schermer and Dorothy Skibbe were the candidates and we welcome them to our chapter.

The Worthy Patron, George Wilson, gave a lovely talk, and thanked the acting officers, the various committees and all who in any way had had a share in making the evening so successful.

Acting Worthy Patron Samuel Pollack who formerly was a resident of Palatine also gave a very interesting talk.

The acting Worthy Matron, Elizabeth Pahlman and the Worthy Matron Mabelle Jasper also gave a short talk. The Worthy Matron thanked the committee for the work they had done.

This being Patrons' night, Brother Wilson had a few of the stations filled by members of his family, Ethel Kitson who served as Esther, is a cousin, Bessie Nusser, who served as Martha, is a niece and Marion Hitzman who served as Chaplain is a sister-in-law.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

Come quick, quick, quick,
For the jolly picnic;
Before that giant mosquito,
Getting off to convention,
Reveals his intention.
Of spilling our fun with a veto.

You remember the school boy in olden times, who asked "How big was Alexander, Pa." Now a boy asks, looking up from his study of anatomy, "What is a veto, Pa." and Pa answers, "It is something grown by those who sit too long in the Presidential chair." Is that so?

Anyway let the vetos and the mosquitoes keep out of the picture,
this is June, and high tide on the sea of life for youth and all things joyous. Let politicians run conventions and claver in their wild contentions. Is Arlington Heights
the gate of life, an opening to youth.

From the Ohio State Journal, we learn that a great newspaper man
if any, is one who tells the truth
so plainly that a fairly large percentage of the reading public indignantly stop the paper, but borrows it from every day and keeps it at least half an hour. How some people do hate to read the plain unvarnished truth, especially where they themselves are concerned in it.

Scientists are having much to say over the bursting of an atom. But let us not try it in Arlington Heights.
You see for years, all explosives
have been forbidden, inside the village limits. By an edict or ordinance, most wisely passed while P.
J. Moys was mayor and recently called to mind by our good Mayor Plentie, these menacing nuclear contraptions are forbidden. Good for our village officials and how lets hear nothing of exploding
atoms, even by learned scientists.

Another scientist says the earth worm is the farmer's greatest friend. Let the delegates to that convention get on to that, or there won't be a worm left for fish bait. All will be bagged and carried in by Lowden delegates, and you know another scientist declares
the earth worm sings, and today
read of its shiny length. O, well, heaps of humans are sordid earth
worms, even delegates to political conventions.

Two bright children, whose mother is wisely entering into their amusements and making education
a sort of delightful sport, are asking her why she doesn't take a nice little jockey to board or room in their home? This is just a sample of the hospitality the homes of Arlington Heights are extending to strangers within the gates.
Think of it, between three and four hundred are in one of our restaurants in one short day. Business must be thriving, as a result of all these strangers coming to the races.

Thanks for words of appreciation from kind people who read these notes. You know, the love of praise, however concealed by art, rules more or less, and dwells in every heart. A bit of commendation does inspire to do better work.
A word this week from one whose opinion I much value greatly encourages and encourages one whose desire is for the best and the highest for Arlington Heights.
Thank you kind friends.

Glad to read in "The Voice of the People" that one of our residents is interested in the Memorial day observance. For many years it has been our earnest effort
to honor our soldiers, dead or living. If, to a zealous newcomer the efforts seemed feeble, we are glad to learn of his hopeful interest and trust our townsman, Mr. F. W.
Proctor, will do all he can to stir up the seemingly waning fires of patriotism in Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Wm. Hausam, who has been leader and a tireless worker
in the auxiliary of veterans, tells us a very encouraging item in regard to the Arlington Heights chapter.
The officials from the state department, examining the books or records, kept of the activities of the local organization here, said they were the most correct and well kept according to department formula, of any in the district. This is fine.

and we know the Auxiliaries of Veterans and Legion, as well as the Woman's Club, are zealous in their work to cheer and provide for our soldiers.

After when we go into a new place, we are too quick to form opinions of what has been done, and our ability to carry on in a superior way. In other words we deprecate unjustly what has been the earnest effort of years. This reminds me of a man once rather new in church work, when demand for money to pay the preacher was being discussed, enthusiastically said
"Why not give a pay social, my wife would bake a cake."

Of course we are all willing to
bake cakes, or to give till it hurts,
like the man out west, when a play
was held up because a wolf that was to be in the play disappeared. This enthusiastic onlooker said "I'll be wolf, anything, to see the play go on." That is just the way all loyal citizens should feel about seeing this great drama of life go on for the good of humanity in Arlington Heights.

A near all night session of our village board. Congress has nothing on Arlington Heights for a hang on. Can just imagine our valorous Mayor like Grant, if need be declaring "We'll fight it out here, and it takes all summer." Though I'm sure our board was in no sense fighting, as is evidenced by the unanimity of their votes.
They were considering and deliberating on best methods for Arlington Heights Welfare. We shall see it work out.

The Literary Digest tells us Charley Lindburg has a job. That is fine, and every young man who makes the best of himself, physically, mentally and spiritually, and starts out with a determined purpose on his life course is sure to land a job, and if he has a choice of his job it is so much the surer to land him high. Lindburg, in his concentration of effort and continuity of purpose is a fine example for youth.

If a young man or woman just emerging from school or college
has a choice of vocation or activity,
so much the better. Don't let them in making their choice, let them, if possible, try it out for themselves. Who of us, looking back over the years, but will admit children do have a choice. Direction on the part of parents is well
a wise and splendid thing, but if a boy with all his years, has wanted
to be a blacksmith, a farmer,
rather than your choice, let him be
it.

In this connection, should like to tell about Albrecht Durer. As the Art Institute letter gives it. Seventeenth century brothers and sisters composed the family of the greatest German painters and engravers, Albrecht Durer, who was the third of eighteen children. He was born May 21, 1471. His ancestors of Hungarian descent keepers of oxen and horses. The name Durer signifies opener door. At an early age Durer's father bound him as apprentice to a goldsmith. But the young man showed preference for painting.

His father encouraged him in his ambition, and bound him out to the best painter in the city, Michael Wolgemut. Durer afterwards said
of this period "God gave me diligence, so I learned well." He eventually became the leading painter and engraver of his time,
and his fame has lasted undiminished down to the present day. At the Art Institute in the print galleries,
there has just been installed a fine
exhibition of Durer's engravings,
and this showing will last until July 31.

And one more quotation from this letter: "When Mrs. John Bruce Dodd, known as the founder of Father's Day, which is observed the third Sunday in June, and her nine year old son, Jack, entered the Art Institute, Chicago in 1919, they had a vision, a vision of a future business partnership in art. This they are realizing. Mrs. Dodd was graduated from the Dodd Studios, Washington, they are working to make the vision come true.

Youth gazing on the maze of things
Feels the unfolding golden wings;

Youth, shining youth, sees glory
where,
The aged defeated sees despair.
Gaze on, hope on, O happy youth,
Life bears you on to heights of truth.
All the far way your days along,
You'll learn and grow the stars
among;
You'll find this earth, a meager
part,
On four dominions vastly chart,
Must earth wisdom here ignore;
No more its platitudes rehearse,
Our little sun is but a spark;
Scarce seen beyond earth's tiny arc.
Leave musty wisdom of the past,
To learn of other worlds more vast Yours is the Universe.

So much for our young men and young women, just now about to commence life school in earnest.
May they be given right encouragement, and right vision. We of the older school have a duty and responsibility in this. Let us see to it.

Maurice Thompson, our greatest bird friend and whose knowledge of birds is not excelled, said one cat
will destroy more birds in a season than all the boys and guns. You say your cat won't kill birds, I feed him too well. Well he will, and did just take our meadow lark right off the nest and kill her. Took our robin from its nest in the porch
vine, took our little humming bird,
our hedge sparrows, and is now
prowling for mocking bird.

Cats are natural prowlers and hunters of birds. In some places in New England there are ordinances requiring cat owners to put bells on their cats—bell your cat. It is a question of, which will you give up, our sweet songsters, or the prowling cats? Now lets talk about our queen of the prairie, the fragrant wild rose.

There is no flower ever grows,
As lovely as our own wild rose.

Each shell pink petal, crimson
Has long her royal strain proclaimed.

Close circled in her cup like fold,
Gleams her bright coronet of gold.

Her dainty buds hide folded in,
An airy nois her cat can win.

Fertile her leaves on wiry stem,
Befit the queen that graces them.

Breath of fragrance from her heart,
Might cure for mortal ills impart.

The primal title of her race,
Her roots hold in each prairie space.

When the foundation here was laid,
For our old house, the pick and spade.

A net work of wild rose roots
found,
Beneath this little prairie mound.

Ten years of hard continued toil,
Cannot up root them from the soil.

So long ago the fight we yield,
And let our queen possess the field.

No velvet lawn, with flowers there,
Can with our own wild rose compare.

In June at parting of the dawn,
Wild roses flaunt across the lawn.

Beneath an arbor vitae spread,
Close sheltered rears a queenly
head.

And in wild beauty blooming free,
Waves a triumphant hall to me.

No hothouse beauty ever weaves,
Such fragrance in her velvet leaves.

That floats across our prairies free,
From wild rose aborigine.

Where steel rails line in endless rank,
She makes a terrace of their bank.

O, you, who love our prairie state,
Spare our wild rose extinctions fate.

Queen of our prairies let her bloom,
Sacred as our great Lincoln's tomb.

Strong in her beauty, blooming free,
Her strength like his simplicity.

Trailing along our prairie sod,
Gems scattered by the hand of God.

—Elmore Crisler Haynes.

FATHER'S DAY

We've celebrated Mother's Day,
We've given children a day and enjoyed it with them. Now we are to have Father's Day June 17th.
May it be a day of encouragement and good cheer to our fathers in our land. I sometimes fear that in these days of greater things for women we make the men take a lower seat than they should. Father does play a most important place in the home and community. All this is speaking of our right-minded fathers. In our home fathers and mothers were never separated in our plane of thought. Their days should be parent's day, as it is to be. We hail Father's Day with a right good will. Give him the best a day can yield, love, honor and good cheer.

We said we write our pretty things
For Mother's Day
While all the world its tribute brings
To cheer her way.

And right it is and due it is
To honor her
But why not give to father his Without demur?

We sing glad songs on Children's Day
We listen in While children speak their pretty say
Our hearts to win.

Then why not give Father a day?
His life, his love, his care
Is bound to Mother's all the way
Their love the same.

Father has faced the world for you
Don't you forget
Your home, your schooling gotten through
Hard toil and sweat

Who earned your bread and butter
when
You ate and grew?
Who was the earning power for ten
All just like you?

Who listened to your tales of woes
Over some scrap
Who judged, and sentence did impose
On guilty chap?

Who is it has to pay the bill?
Who bears the blame
Of ugly temper, stubborn wills
Laid to his name?

Who shielded and defended you
When conduct wild
Led him and loving mother through Grief for their child?

Who urged you on to work and win;
Gave praise when earned
Who warned you of the wiles of sin

Too early learned?
Who was it soothed your childish
fears
Who backs you yet?
Your father—though he hid his
fears
Don't you forget!

Then let us all with right good will Keep Father's Day
Owning the debt we owe him still Too great for us to pay.

Likens Arlington
Heights to An Esttiae

(Contributed)

Some visitors to Arlington Heights upon a friend whom they had not seen out here, were impressed with the attractiveness of the place especially the beautiful trees, which just now are lovely to see and a French saying seems fit:
"Le vert tendre de printemps."

These visitors with Kenosha relatives are in the habit of taking country trips, so their impressions
can count to our advantage.

It was a farewell call before sailing for Europe to the home of their ancestors where an inheritance awaits them. So with the European idea of an estate with an expanse
of three, it appeared to the gentlemen, perhaps, as if he was seeing an old country home, as his remark
"like a palace," astonished the hostess who sensed the idea in his mind without any comment, as he was quietly enjoying the place with so many trees. Their city home on the north side, in Chicago, having beauty spots of flowers if not large grounds. Hence, while often on auto trips, it was not like a personal impression of a small home property of a friend's possession to be interested in it especially and think it like a palace because among so many trees.

Kindergarten and Elementary College, Evanston, at the commen-

ment held on Wednesday afternoon, June 6. The degree of Bachelor of Education was conferred on 12
students at this time. 230 diplomas were presented and fourteen honorary scholarships awarded by President Edna Dean Baker. The commencement address was given by Dr. Edwin D. Stuchel, director of the Institute of Character Research, University of Iowa.

During her three years at College Miss Schmeberger has made an unusually fine record in her practical and scholastic work, and in student activities. She was elected organization editor of the year book, and has taken part in the Theatricals, Christmas and Spring festivals.

Review of Recent

Senior Class Play

It is said that items concerning past events, no longer is news. That may be true, but in the account that is to follow, we do not wish to present a news item, but a review of the Senior play, given by the 1928 class of Arlington Heights township high school.

Those of you, who failed to see the play, we are sure, will gain a good idea of the work done from this review.

The comedy "The Patsy" by Barry Corner, was very successfully presented by the Senior class of the Arlington Heights township high school on Friday and Saturday evenings, June 1 and 2. The play is one which abounds in clever lines and sparkling humor. That it was ably coached and well given, was evidenced by the fact that the audience readily responded to the lines with enthusiastic applause and laughter. From the moment when the curtain first was raised showing Ma and Pops Harrington engaged in one of their characteristic quarrels until it lowered on the reconciliation between Tony Anderson and "The Patsy," there was not a dull moment. One moment the audience was sympathizing with the long-suffering Pops, the next moment there was a feeling of impatience and disgust, because Mrs. Harrington and the eldest daughter, Grace, were so unreasonable and difficult to live with. The hearts of all went out to "The Patsy" who seemed to be the center and cause of all the family differences.

Miss Helen Marie Roast is to be highly commended for her skill in selecting such a talented cast of characters. The success of the play is due to her ability as a coach and to the cooperation and work of the members of the cast.

Ed. Wahl, as Pops Harrington, acted his part with exceptional ability. He knew his lines, and he knew how to say them in a most realistic style. Mildred Thal, who took the part of Mrs. Harrington, very cleverly portrayed the wife, who is eager for social success.

Margaret Helwig, "The Patsy," won the affection of every member of the audience by her character with understanding and sincerity. Isabel Clarke had one of the most difficult parts in the play, that of the disagreeable older sister, who makes life unbearable for the younger sister, and consequently gains the dislike of all onlookers. Isabel proved to be a good actress. Roger Brown and Robert Prosser, who took the parts of Billy Caldwell and Tony Anderson, respectively, portrayed those characters in a very pleasing manner. Ethel Hertel, Wilbert Pater, and Ignatius Heckmiller had minor parts, but showed that they are capable of playing heavier roles.

Billman's theme Sunday morning at eleven o'clock is "Principle and Obligation." The choir will sing. There will be no evening meetings during the summer.

High league meets Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Billman is the leader.

Y. W. F. M. S. enjoyed their meeting at the Deer Grove Forest Preserve Monday evening. A picnic dinner was served.

Theodore Roosevelt said "Yes, I know that one can worship the Creator in a grove of trees, just as well as in church. But I also know as a matter of fact that the average man does not thus worship." Come to church first, then get out in God's temple afterward.

The Superintendent of the church school and the pastor take this means of thanking Miss Moyer and Miss Bray for their work with the children. Messrs. Beaty, Busch and Patrick for their stage work and Bessie Allen for her faithful work at the piano, all in preparation for the children's day exercises.

Register your children for a summer school of religion and recreation. See Miss Bray or Mr. Billman.

ST. JOHN'S EVANGELICAL CHURCH

Sunday, June 17.

Sunday school at 10 a. m.

At 11 o'clock the Sunday school and congregation will go in cars for their annual outing to Mr. A. B. Scheringhausen's grove on Higgins road, near State road.

A Children's day service will be held. In the afternoon there will be amusements for young and old. Coffee, buns and frankfurters can be bought. Please bring your cup. Everybody is cordially invited.

On Saturday, June 23, the Ladies Aid Society will give a home bakery and candy sale in the church basement, beginning at 4 p. m.

St. Peter's Church

9:45 a.m. Sunday school.

9:45 a.m. German service.

11:00 English service.

The outstanding feature of Sunday will be the Walther League Rally sponsored by the local society. Following is the program for the day:

3 p.m. Business meeting.

4 p.m. Inspirational address by Rev. A. R. Kretzmann.

6 p.m. Good Fellowship Banquet.

7:30 p.m. Musical Comedy: "In Hickey Doodle Town."

We are throwing open our doors to all the young people of the church, whether affiliated with our society or not, and we welcome them to take part in all the activities of the day. Come and see for yourself what the Walther League is doing for our Lutheran youth and for the church.

Mr. Henry Schroeder and Miss Selma Troyke have been elected as delegates to represent the W. L. society at the International Convention at Milwaukee, July 15 to 19.

During the hot summer months of July and August the meetings of the Walther League will be discontinued.

Both choirs have also decided to omit the regular weekly rehearsals during June, July and August.

A huge congregation gathered to take part in our annual mission festival. Splendid and inspiring addresses were delivered in German and English by the festival speakers. The collection totaled $962.00.

The Men's chorus will give an ice cream social Saturday evening, July 23rd in the church grove. Those who have attended the former affairs, need not be encouraged to turn out on this occasion. Our young men are able to entertain every bit as well as our young ladies and the proof of this pudding will be the eating of it.

Spiritual Slumber

The beautiful summer months are here and with the advent of this most happy season of the year comes a slackening of religious interest. During the fall, spring and winter spiritual enthusiasm climbs upward reaching its highest pitch on Easter Sunday. Then suddenly when the warm period of the year has come, it drops down alarmingly, almost to the freezing point.

Strange isn't it? We have never been able to understand why people should feel less need for God and spiritual stimulation now than at other times. It would seem, that just now when all nature, dressed in the radiant garb of summer, preaches the praises of the Creator, men and women should desire to get into closer communion with God than ever before. It is a mere tinkling of words to speak of worshipping God in nature, when the worship in his house of prayer is neglected.

Friends, for the sake of your soul do not omit God and His Word from your summer program. Take God with you on your vacation. Attend divine services wherever you may roam as regularly now as at other times. Continue to stress the cultivation of your soul's life and yours will be a well rounded vacation, a blessing for body, mind and soul.

Come to church in summer for the good of your soul.

The question of calling the fifth male teacher for our day school will be presented to the voters in the regular meeting of next month.

SWEITZER, Clerk of the County Court of Cook County, Illinois, that certain land owners to the number of and possessing ownership as required by the Statute within certain proposed boundaries of the proposed Fechanville Drainage District, Cook County, Illinois, have heretofore, on to-wit: May 24th, A. D. 1928, filed in the office of the Clerk of the County Court of Cook County, Illinois, their petition prepared and filed according to law and the statute in such case made and provided praying the court to enter its order declaring the said proposed Fechanville Drainage District and appointing three land owners as Commissioners thereof.

YOU ARE HEREBY FURTHER NOTIFIED that the said petition seeks authority to deepen and widen Reese Creek, part of which shall be a closed conduit, and shows the starting point, route and terminus thereof as follows: Beginning at a point where the said Reese Creek crosses Rand Road at approximately the intersection thereof with the East line of Section 34, (West of this point the said creek constituting the main outlet, shall be a closed conduit running East and West from the intersection of Main Street and Isabella Street at Mount Prospect, Illinois) thence running Northeast through the North half of Section 35 to a point approximately 580 feet South of the center line of Foundry Road at Section 79, 88 as shown on map hereto attached, thence Southeast to Station 98.73 on said map at which point the said creek intersects the East line of said Section 35; thence meandering Northeastly and Southeastly crossing the Minneapolis St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railroad at approximately the center line of Section 36; thence continuing Southeastly and Easterly crossing the North and South center line of Section 36 and thence continuing Northeastly to Station 148.23 and thence Southeastly crossing River Road, and finding outlet to the Des Plaines River at approximately the intersection thereof with the East and West center line of said Section 36.

The said petition further provides that the bottom width of the open ditch portion of Reese Creek shall have a width of eight feet with side slopes rising one foot vertical in each one and one half feet of horizontal distance from the said Des Plaines River westerly to the said Soo Line Railroad; thence a similar ditch having a bottom width of six feet to the intersection thereof with Rand Road; and thence westerly a closed circular conduit of reinforced concrete of about 48" internal diameter to Main Street in the said

Village of Mt. Prospect.

The said description also describes the boundaries of said proposed district as follows:

Commencing at intersection of west bank of Des Plaines River and the North line of South quarter of Northeast quarter Section 36-42-11, thence westerly above last described line to north and south center line said Section 36, thence North along last described line to the North line of Southeast quarter of Northwest quarter Section 36-42-11, thence west along last described line to easterly right of way line of Minneapolis St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railroad, thence northwesterly along said easterly right of way line to the south line of Section 25-42-11, thence west along last described line to the east line of Section 26-42-11, thence north along last described line to the north line of the South quarter of South half of Section 26-42-11, thence westerly along last described line and along the South line of the South quarter of the South half of Section 27-42-11 to the east line of Southwest quarter southeast quarter Section 27-42-11, thence north along last described line to a line parallel with and 1000 feet north of south line of Section 27-42-11, thence west along last described line and along the South line of the South quarter of the South half of Section 27-42-11 to the east line of Southwest quarter southeast quarter Section 27-42-11, thence north along last described line to the north line of Section 34-42-11, thence west along last described line to the west line of Section 34-42-11, thence south along west line of Section 34-42-11 to center line of Highland Avenue to center line of Elmhurst Road, thence south along center line of Elmhurst Road to center line of Henry Street (extended) thence east along center line of Henry Street (extended) to center line of Main Street, thence south along center line of Main Street to center line of Central Road (south line of Section 34 and 35-42-11) thence east along center line of Central Road to east line of Section 7-41-12 thence south along east line of said Section to the South line of the North half of said Section 7, thence East along said South line to the West line of the East half of said Section, thence North along the West line thereof to South line of the North half of the North half of said Section 7, thence East along said South line to the East right of way line of the Minneapolis St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railroad, thence North along said East right of way line to the South line of Section 36-42-11, thence east along south line said Section 36 to West bank of Des Plaines River, thence northwesterly along west bank Des Plaines River to place of beginning, which boundaries so described shall comprise a Drainage District to be known as FECHANVILLE DRAINAGE DISTRICT, Cook County, Illinois.

YOU AND EACH OF YOU ARE HEREBY FURTHER NOTIFIED that on the 19th day of June, A. D. 1928, at 10 o'clock A. M. or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, the said petitioners, by their attorney, O. S. Hansen, shall move the Court to enter its order declaring the said proposed district duly organized under the provisions of an act to provide for the "construction, repair and protection of drains, ditches and levees, across the lands of others for agricultural, sanitary and mining purposes, and to provide for the organization of drainage districts." Approved and in force May 29, 1879, and all acts amendatory thereto, and appointing three competent persons as Commissioners, each of whom shall hold his office until his successor is appointed as provided by law, to lay out and construct said proposed work, and to enter any and all other orders which to the court may seem meet.

YOU AND EACH OF YOU ARE HEREBY FURTHER NOTIFIED that you have a right to appear and offer any competent evidence for or against the organization of the proposed Fechanville Drainage District, and that said petition will be heard by his honor, Edmund K. Jarcecki, Judge of the County Court of Cook County, Illinois, in the Room usually occupied by him as a Court Room in the City of Chicago, Cook County, Illinois, at the June Term, the 19th day of June, A. D. 1928, at 10 o'clock A. M., or as soon thereafter as this cause can be heard.

Dated this 25th day of May, A. D. 1928.

ROBERT M. SWEITZER, (Seal)
Clerk of the County Court, Cook County, Illinois. (6-15)

WHY DOES FIRESTONE DIP THE CORDS IN A RUBBER SOLUTION?

Here's Answer

Many car owners ask the question: "Why does Firestone dip the cords used in the tire carcass in a rubber solution?" says Otto Gaere, of Palatine, Firestone Service Dealer.

"The answer is this: Gum-dipping is the only known method which carries the rubber insulation to the heart of every cord; saturating and insulating every fiber of every cord with rubber, giving them maximum protection against friction.

"If car owners could see how this special process is carried out in the Firestone Gum-Dipping Plant, they would understand why Gum-Dipped tires have won all the important National Championship Automobile Races during the past eight years and established such remarkable records for speed and endurance. And they would appreciate why operators of taxicabs, truck and bus fleets—because of the careful cost records they keep—are among the largest users of Gum-Dipped tires.

"The greatest enemy of tire life is not the chopped-up road, the broken pavement or the harsh grind of rough city streets—but internal friction in the cords of the carcass. Internal friction fatigues the cords and weakens the whole structure of the tire, causing blowouts and tire failures.

"Firestone chemists and engineers knew that if they could find a way to impregnate the individual cords with rubber and thus insulate the small threads, strands and fibers which compose them, further increase in the life and mileage-giving qualities of the tire would result. A method of dipping the cords of the tire carcass in a rubber solution was found and called 'Gum-Dipping.' Thus Firestone reduced the chafing action within the cords by saturating and insulating strands and fibers, carrying the cord tire principle one step further."

COMMANDMENTS OF DOMESTIC HAPPINESS

Judge Joseph Burke of the Chicago court of domestic relations, has unusual opportunity for learning a lot about the psychology of the human being. He has set forth a few commandments for married folks that are worth thinking about. Let's consider three of them.

1. Make it a rule in your home never to let the day close unhappily. Wipe out the score before you go to sleep.

Here speaks a psychologist as well as a judge. He knows about the subconscious mind and its incessant activity during the night. Only part of the mind sleeps. Part of it works on and on, restless and unceasing. Into the mill of this restless part of our mind are fed the cares, the anxieties, the problems of the day. It feeds avidly on the provender of the waking hours. If we go to bed with cares, anxieties, worries, upmost in the mind, we shall lack refreshing sleep, notwithstanding our literal unconsciousness.

2. Indulge liberally in compliments. They raise a wife's spirits, make her a better cook, a finer mother, and a more loving wife.

Whoever invented the idea that men and women, in business or in the home, get their best results by being hard. There is no normal human being who is not exalted in a state of higher efficiency and improved production by generous words. A diet unmixing with praise is sour enough.

3. Tell your wife the exact amount of your income. Plan together how to spend it. Be fair about it.

There are men—not a few of them—who boast that their wives know nothing about their business, their incomes, their expenditures. That may be honest, but it is not comfortable or co-operative. Men and women, married, can grow together or they can grow apart. To fail to proceed, in common, is to take the hard road. And your wife's counsel is likely to prove one of your principal business assets.

Discover the strength of union. Play together, plan together, work together—there is the secret of domestic happiness.

No Presswork Necessary

The cowboy had just discovered waffles, and he had his appetite with him. The first order disappeared in record time and another supply was called for. Order after order followed, but the waffles did not come quite fast enough for the cowboy, so he said to the waiter: "Tell the feller out there he needn't stop to put the printin' on them; jest send 'em in plain."

No Phenology Required

Another way to read character by the bumps is to listen to a motorist as he drives over a lumpy road.

Graduates of Niles Center Public School Receive Diplomas

Closing exercises of Niles Center public school were held at the school hall Wednesday evening. The operetta "The Forest Court" was well rendered. The teachers deserve very much credit for the splendid way in which everything worked out. The children all did well and the evening was greatly enjoyed by all attending. Mr. Aken presented the diplomas to the graduates.

There are 15 graduates as follows: Clarence Baumann, Jessie Branger, Robert Eby, Edward Fleming, Marion Franden, Florence Guberville, Arthur Gross, Helen Gross, Henry Krueger, Frances Mittelstaedt, Evelyn Ruesch, Margaret Rhode, Jane Sweiberg, Lillian Talake, Florence Wohlbrandt.

Class motto—Of nothing, nothing is made.

Class Colors—Blue and Orange. Class Flower—Tea Rose.

The flowers were furnished by the School Welfare Club. We are all sorry that Miss Mildred Tess will not be with us next year, as the children and parents all think very highly of her and will no doubt miss her.

Many of these graduates intend to enter Carl Schurz, Evanston, or Niles township high schools next fall.

MORTON GROVE

The entertainment sponsored by the Young People's Society of Jerusalem Lutheran church, June 7 and 8, went over big. The first night the crowd was not so large, comparatively speaking, but the second evening all the space was taken. The play was well rendered and many favorable comments are heard.

The graduation exercises and presentation of diplomas at common school education of Jerusalem Lutheran school, was held June 8, before a large audience. Eight children were graduated.
